

2006 ENERGY STAR NEW MILLENNIUM BUILDER AWARD AFFORDABLE/ ATTAINABLE BUILDER FRONT RANGE

The 2006 New Millennium ENERGY STAR Builder Award recognizes Aspen Homes of Colorado, Inc., as a market leader in the Colorado home building industry for their excellence in the construction and sale of high-performance homes.

The award applauds Aspen Homes for their exemplary demonstration of a whole-house, "systems" built approach to improving their homes' performance in the areas of comfort, health, safety, durability, and environmental sustainability. In addition, these homes exceed the energy requirements of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's ENERGY STAR for New Homes program.

Aspen Homes was honored to receive an award in the Affordable/Attainable category for their achievements in affordable housing strategies. This is the fourth consecutive year Aspen Homes has received this prestigious award.
